

xsign were specified by Tom Cairns at 3 percent to manufacture and install interior and exterior wayfinding signage at Woking Hospice in Surrey. Working closely with the designer of the space, our remit was to provide a suite of signs that befit the clean, modern environment.

Internally, we have provided cut letters for the floor-level indicators and frosted panels on our range of fixing systems, including jigsaw panels and standard directory signs. Externally, we have featured a wayfinding directory panel in the car park and a branded directory post to welcome visitors to the hospice.
